INTRODUCTION

The purpose behind this article is to investigate the nature of the dark occultists. And while we will cover many topics and go on some tangents, this is not a comprehensive exploration of those topics, but explored to the degree that it supports our thesis.

After diving deep into conspiracy research several years after the false flag event of 911, I (Jana) often thought of the rulers of empire as having some type of special intelligence, as being evil geniuses if you will. The more I pondered their devious plots, the more I would think of them as brilliant... but not in a good way, of course.

During a conversation with Noah, my husband, the errors inherent in these presumptions became apparent and so I present the fruits of that discussion that I have integrated with my personal research on the occult. While I have written and put the information together, because this is based on some of his insights, corrections, and additions, we happily bring you a collaborative effort.

Some interpretations of Gnosticism seem to acknowledge this idea of higher evil as with the concept of the Archons or fallen angels as the Demiurge resonates with the biblical interpretation of Lucifer. These beings evolved to angels (simply another term for higher beings) but “fell from grace” because of their lust to become God (the Highest Being).

For a long time, conspiracy researchers have postulated that the Illuminati, which means “illuminated ones,” was the occult order at the top of the pyramid of power. Mark Passio has used the term “dark occultists” instead which is more encompassing. This small group of people (a cult, essentially) with unknown identities operate the entire Control System behind the scenes pulling the strings of all politicians, leaders, and man's institutions to destroy, regress, and negatively alter mankind. We are currently in the midst of their depopulation agenda.

Passio believes that the dark occultists have hidden the Knowledge of Natural Law, a body of Spiritual Knowledge to trick humanity into being their slaves. These dark occultists use this knowledge for their personal benefit to enslave mankind, while light occultists provide this knowledge to free and benefit others.

Dark Occultists have completely infiltrated and permeated all institutional walks of life on Earth. Through their manipulation of these institutions, they currently hold the overall mindset of the Human population in a state of general unconsciousness, thus holding Humanity in a state of Slavery .

This really resonated with me as I was already open to idea that the ruling elite were more than just ignorant power-hungry psychopaths. It seemed plausible that as sorcerers they could play a higher-level game against humanity, using Occult Spirituality as their weapon of choice. Even though quite immoral, this evil cabal seemed advanced in particular ways that the average man is not.

But now it is time to question and investigate these assertions and deconstruct the idea of enlightened evil as a whole. Do dark sorcerers use Natural Law Science to their advantage? Are they part of the Illuminati? Manly P. Hall suggests that the black magicians of Atlantis and Egypt hijacked the Ancient Mysteries of the light occultists to enslave the minds of men. Is this true?

How we characterize the dark occultists matters in our understanding of Spiritual Laws, the Self, and the conditions of this plane of reality. Are we exaggerating their power and knowledge and giving them more credit than their worth?

But before we begin, let's address the question: What is our method-of-truth for even obtaining any knowledge about the dark occultists? Those stuck in left-brain imbalance (and empiricism) will argue that unless we know these individuals directly, we cannot know anything about them—it would all be speculation. HOWEVER, this paper is not intended for the left-brain imbalanced, but for those studying the Trivium who should know that with metaphysics and rationality, we can extrapolate, deduce, induce, and abstract further knowledge from the empirical facts given—which, in this case, are the deeds of the ruling elite (within their financial institutions, networks, policies, regulations, laws, planned events, agendas, etc.).

While analysis these facts are not within the scope of this writing, a plethora of books can be found on these topics. Hopefully the assertions made in herein will be self-evident and common sense for those who have done their homework.

CHAPTER 1. HOLISTIC EVIL?

One reason why human beings struggle to see a tiny conspiratorial group pulling the strings of humanity through integrated systems of control is because they are mentally imbalanced. Those who are left-brain imbalanced have compartmentalized/fragmented thinking and will struggle to detect or discern the patterns of connection between man-made institutional hierarchies and their unified goals. Today we live in a transhumanist technocracy and pseudo-scientific dictatorship, but these imbalanced individuals perceive political and economic events as unorganized, unconnected, fragmented, and haphazard.

Lacking psychological awareness, they may even claim that we can never know motives of individuals—but if that were true then no detective case could have ever been solved without hard physical evidence. By a persons deeds, may we know them.

On the other hand, those who are right-brain imbalanced can dissociate from reality, live in a fantasy land oblivious to facts, and be blind to even the most concrete of political and economic realities. They are often solipsistic and deny the existence of objective reality, thinking themselves to be defacto arbiters of truth, living in the false reality of their projections, desires, and delusions. We see this often in the new age, where all is said to be "love and light."

While the media presents false narratives in the news to keep the left-brain stuck in their imbalance, entertainment and soon virtual reality will keep the right-brain imbalanced dissociated from reality.

Their single agenda is: POWER OVER HUMANITY and all their systems are built around this one drive, desire, and motivation; there is little to no nuance or complexity to their psychological makeup as a whole with regards to an elevated state of consciousness.

In the Natural Law community, many assign some type of developed power to the concept of "dark unity," another useful term brought up by Passio. They may regard dark unity as the achievement of some level of internal growth or integration, as the alignment of thoughts, feelings, actions, which even though aligned to the dark side is still some type of self-made alignment. Yet aligning ALL parts of oneself to the contracted agenda of dominance requires no spiritual strength or development.

In actuality, an average person who is conflicted between their thoughts, feelings, and actions is more evolved than these base individuals, who simply submit all of themselves to an evil impulse; there is no ability in that submission as it is the opposite of self-mastery. The dark occultists are simple beings and that simplicity should not be confused as being holistic.

Their cult has social cohesion (collective unity) because each cult member will live and die at the altar of global domination, and while it seems like religious commitment lies beneath this, it is merely the Basic Instinct of the reptilian mind-brain. All cognitive dissonance can be suppressed through hyper-focus and sheer obsession. Just as a coke addict lives and dies for coke, so will the dark occultists play out their addition to rule and this becomes their sole energy source and prime object of lust and purpose.

We must understand that addictions aren't merely of the body, but also the mind—and its agendas of any kind, good or bad. Even alignment to a good cause can become troublesome for the Occult Student, if he turns that into an addiction and source of energy motivated by compulsive obsession. Nothing is more the enemy to developing holistic consciousness than neurotic addiction.

While there exists the polarity of positive and negative always inherent in ego and shadow even in the holistic person (and all the way up evolution), this negative is not the type of evil we are discussing here, the hellish evil of violation and destruction through bondage and coercion of imposed systems of control.

In order to understand and live in harmony with Natural Law Metaphysics, the Knowledge of Eternal and Absolute Virtues of Truth, Goodness, Freedom, Beauty, and Love, one must have developed holistic consciousness. While the right-brain tends towards false religion and the left-brain towards the dissociated intellect, holistic consciousness is a mind rooted in correct metaphysics and rationality.

There is no such thing as "evil holistic consciousness," as evil manifests in lower consciousness and in the vibration of shadow, darkness, dominance, violence, and false power where there can be no higher mind. The higher is holistic. Consequently we must question the true level of understanding of Natural Law the dark occultists who reside in this lower state of being have.

CHAPTER 2. USING NATURAL LAW TO ENSLAVE?

Many in the Natural Law/Great Work community believe that the power of the dark occultists lie in their knowledge of Natural Laws and that their active suppression of this information is their primary tool for controlling the masses. This is a worthy theory to consider, for knowing about the dark occultists, their methods, and ideologies is important in our pursuit of truth.

OUR RULERS WORLDVIEW

Dark Luciferianism Occultists have controlled this world for thousands of years by using their own deep knowledge of The Occult and Natural Law and by inventing False World Religions for the ignorant masses over whom they rule. It is very important to understand their overarching worldview, for we must grasp the mindset of those who currently enslave us if we hope to end their rulership and truly be free. These Dark Occultists fully understand that the Universe is governed by Spiritual Laws put in place by the Creator (the underlying intelligence of the Universe) and they are in open rebellion against those Universal Moral Laws.

Image: Mark Passio's Fake-Ass Christians Seminar

While this proposition fulfills a type of mythological fantasy that—in a sense—glamorizes the dark side as consisting of powerful sorcerers who are “awake” and trick the “dead,” the reality may be much different.

When we say that someone “knows Natural Law,” we infer they understand it. Information becomes knowledge within an individual through understanding. Knowledge in itself is a fixed body of information (metaphysics), while the knower pertains to the consciousness of the individual in relation to said knowledge (epistemology—how much does one know?). A person can have information that they can memorize or repeat without actually knowing that information. They may know the words but not grasp its meaning or the interrelationships between concepts.

Now we must ask whether it is possible to have understanding of something but act in a way contradictory to that. There are two main positions to take on this regarding the relationship between understanding and action.

This first is that one can understand something but can take actions completely contrary to that understanding. The other position is that this discrepancy between thought and action only occurs when one doesn't have adequate understanding in the first place.

With regards to the first position, we can acknowledge that a person may have some partial understanding that creates hypocrisy, but we must give more weight to the second position because it holds true to the Principle of Mentalism and is holistic—and we are talking about a holistic subject matter.

When a person is not acting properly, it is because of his ignorance not because of his knowledge, as all actions stem from mind. Our right-actions in the world depend directly on our knowledge of them (including knowledge of self, others, conditions, and principles).

One may think that “he knew better than to take that action,” when in fact he did not truly know, he knew too little, he thought he knew, or he had partial knowledge or false knowledge.

True understanding naturally brings about action in alignment with it. To see (accurately) is to do (rightly). To unpack this more: Holistic seeing (accurate perception of right/wrong) is acting—making the right choice (right-action).

To know is to act. To have correct knowledge leads one to right-action.

In regards to Occult Knowledge, there is a threshold of understanding that must be met before one can consider themselves an Initiate... and the dark occultists do not meet that criteria. This doesn't mean that the Initiate stops growing or becomes perfect, but that he knows the difference between good and evil to a sufficient degree to understand what it is in manifestation and embodiment. (The only time he would not know the morality of a situation is because he lacked pertinent information.)

To understand Natural Law, one must exit the cul-de-sac of moral relativism. To truly understand the objective good means that you understand the good, both in Highest Principle (the Absolute Good) and as it manifests in relative degrees in our world.

To understand Moral (Natural) Law is to seek to be and do good—there is no getting around this. No person committing horrific atrocities in the world could possibly understand Natural Law. No one understands objective morality and then seeks to do evil, for the very understanding implies that they know what correct choices are and that even in complex situations, they can still be discoverable.

It is a common misconception that Occult Knowledge is simply a tool that can be used for good or evil.

To address semantics, we may say that “occult information” can be used as a tool, but Occult Knowledge CANNOT be (as knowledge requires understanding). Using Natural Law information for your own ends can only be the display of ignorance of that information.

One with an understanding of Occult Knowledge would never use it for their self-serving ends towards egoic power, because such Knowledge is an End-In-Itself. It is not a methodology or tool, it exists for its own sake as to describe the Nature of Reality, as that understanding is alone the GOLD... and the Nature of Reality IS the Absolute Good!

If the dark occultists perceive Natural Laws as a form of enslavement, as a cosmic prison, then they do not understand Cosmic Law. Freedom is a Principle behind this Cosmic Reality expressed through evolution. The true prison is ignorance and ultimately, fear. Knowledge is Freedom.

It is the egotist who finds objective morality to be a prison upon free will (“do what thou wilt”), not because he understands objective morality but because he doesn't. He or she sees the concept of Moral Law to be blasphemy, as it infringes upon one's lower will, dark side, and reckless pursuits of power. To be in rebellion against Natural Laws is to glorify ego-identification and be beneath its understanding.

Chapter 3. WHO ARE THE DARK OCCULTISTS? WHAT IS DARK OCCULTISM?

Now, after we have deconstructed their lack of knowledge, let's address the term "dark occultist." Is that even the appropriate term for our context now?

Well, we can still define a "dark occultist" as one who dabbles with Occult Ideas but who doesn't truly understand them. This category is much larger than the group behind the global dictatorship and applies to the disparate cult or lone occultist who need not ever come into contact with them. They stand alone in their own sub category of ignorance. (Note: to differentiate between the isolated dark occultist from the conspiratorial group, the former will be lower cased and the latter upper cased.)

Let's discuss this larger dark occultist category in which there are many types: Satanists/Moral Relativists, Dark Luciferians, Chaos Sorcerers, Gatekeepers, Religion/Cage-Creators, Black Magicians/Sorcerers, Linguistic Manipulators, Psychic Vampires, etc. ... It is important to understand that these categories overlap and are used to be helpful to understand aspects of mind and behavior but that many individuals cannot be rigidly categorized due to the complexity of unique psychological factors. The purpose here is to merely make helpful distinctions.

While many Satanists may entertain occult ideas, they often don't pursue philosophical thought—as the tenets of Satanism and basic moral relativism are sufficient for them. On the other hand, Dark Luciferians are refined Satanists who go deeper into occult ideas to construct their false philosophy and who engage in more sophisticated arguments defending moral relativism. Usually, Satanists do not need to rationalize at such a high level, seeking less mental complexity with a more pragmatic approach.

Before continuing, we should take note that even within the Natural Law community these individuals exist of whom I've had personal contact with. One is a chaos sorcerer/Dark Luciferian who admittedly infiltrates occult groups to cause division using certain truths about the shadow side of community to serve this purpose.

Many individuals into the Occult are neither light or dark but somewhere in between, but most unknowingly end up in the dark occult when they are too committed to their errors and have mixed intentions. They usually believe themselves to be light occultists but whether they are dark or gray can depend on the significance and implications of their errors as some errors poison the entire well of information. By the term dark occult, we mean false information about Occult Science that prevents understanding.

SATANISM: THE WORSHIP OF EGO
THE DARK OCCULT'S JUSTIFICATION FOR EVIL

OCCULT FROM LATIN, "OCCULTARE," MEANING "TO HIDE" OR "TO CONCEAL."

WhatOnEarthIsHappening.com

THE FOUR TENETS OF SATANISM

- 1. Self-Preservation. This includes the preservation of one's agenda and one's group above all. This is in direct opposition to conscience, compassion, and love.
- 2. Moral Relativism. This denial of the objective difference between right and wrong allows psychopaths to falsely justify their violence and aggression against others.
- 3. Social Darwinism. This concept of a social version of "survival of the fittest" leads psychopaths to believe that they are the most socially evolved people in society. They actually believe that their lack of compassion and their ruthlessness are evolutionarily superior traits.
- 4. Eugenics. Since they consider themselves superior, they believe they have the right to decide who lives and who dies.

For example, John Baines (who wrote The Secret Science, Part One and The Stellar Man, Part Two) discusses Hermetic Laws and philosophy. In Part One he claims the student must submit his entire will to a (human) Master in order to become initiated and this feeds into the financial success of his very own business mystery-school! This is such a violation of true Natural Law teachings as it promotes a self-serving hierarchy and unhealthy power dynamics through domination and the loss of sovereignty/will that it can be nothing other than gatekeeping. Even though there are many good truths in his works, this puts Baines more in the class of dark occultists.

It is possible Baines deliberately wrote such falsehoods to mislead those who would not go deeper into the information to find out the truth for themselves... as a way to weed out the "unworthy." In Morals and Dogma, Alpert Pike (33 degree freemason) writes about this saying, "masonry jealously conceals its secrets and intentionally leads conceited interpreters astray." While we shouldn't "cast pearls before swine," intentionally misleading others is meeting ignorance with ignorance; the ignorance of bad intention. Thus, gatekeeping is an act of dark occultists, who may have more knowledge than others, but not enough to know that what they are doing is wrong.

Aleister Crowley is another dark occultist who is a combination of good and bad who thinks he is good. His bad side is revealed in his engagement with sex magic—a misuse of the Principle of Gender, ritualistic (or ceremonial) magic, and the creation of an occult religion (Thelema) with its own hierarchy (degrees towards the Abyss). Many people went insane pursuing Crowley's schemes or being involved with him.

A dangerous dark occultist of the 20th century was L. Ron Hubbard who created the religion of Scientology mixing cosmic fiction with occult ideas to cage people's souls into a money-making hierarchical cult that reached peak membership in the 1990s of 100,000 members and today around 25,000.

If you are creating cults, gate-keeping religions, "spiritual" hierarchies, and mystery-school businesses (aka cul-de-sacs), it is impossible for you to be a light occultist. Even in the Natural Law community we see this occurring.

Relevant to our current times is Morgue who has created the religion of Hyperianism, a religion of logic, reason, and ontological mathematics. Morgue certainly dabbles into Occult Philosophy and has some grasp of the principle of mentalism having gone over the Kybalion. This sets him above the average philosopher, yet he is acting as a dark occultist by being a cult leader even if some of his intentions are good. He teaches the popular new age misconception that we are all god and this very idea puts one into the dark occult because it perpetrates a dangerous half-truth.

Yes the All is in all, and yes we return to the All and become one with it, but thinking that this makes us god-like here-and-now is the epitome of vanity, pride, and arrogance and IS the basis for Dark Luciferianism. This is nothing other than the ego masquerading as the higher, using false wisdom as a tool for self-delusion-and-glorification.

The Illuminati Manifesto by an author under the pseudonym Adam Weishaupt begins with the claim that "the essence of illumination" is for "any human to literally become God." Fools entertain half-truths, and the wise the whole truth.

Rather than tempt them to eat the apple from the Tree of Knowledge, the serpent in the garden of Eden tempted Adam and Eve to eat from the Fruit of Falsehood, telling them they would become like God (or like gods) if they did. The Original Sin is conflating ego with God.

Crowley believed that one could cross the Abyss to the highest point of enlightenment as a return to Source and therefore embody a totally ego-less consciousness in human form. But the identification with Source IS the error of Lucifer. The new age is mostly Dark Luciferianism; these individuals believe they are gods because they don't understand shadow, evolution, and identity.

At this point, we must mention that not only fringe cults but even mainstream religions (and their sects) contain elements of dark occultism in them. False religion is a form of dark occultism because it does nothing to help a person evolve but keeps him trapped in false understanding to merely serve the power of the religion-creators and his lower self.

Returning back to Crowley, his identification with the Beast 666 bears some cross over with Satanists and Dark Luciferians who hail the symbol of Satan or Lucifer (respectively) as the Great Rebel from Christianity and all false religions (as well as rebellion from limiting social conventions and taboos). The difference between Satan and Lucifer is that the latter is a refined version of the former. Lucifer rebels through the pretense of rationality and principle, while Satan through sheer force and might.

Luciferianism became popular during the emancipation era from the Roman Catholic Empire that started with the Age of Reason. And there is a positive aspect to this rebellion. Lucifer rebels from his blind servitude and obedience to a Master God just as we should rebel from our human masters. Seeing God as a controlling tyrant at the top of a dominator hierarchy (as Catholicism does) is a false conception of God that feeds into dominator hierarchies in general.

While rebellion from evil things may appear to be good as Christianity and social conventions have satanic/evil elements in them that should be purged, these relativistic camps of Satanists, Luciferians, and Chaos Sorcerers cannot make consistent and accurate moral evaluations of good and evil and are more concerned with the ego payoff of identifying with a destructive energy and spirit. Subjectively to them, rebellion feels like the spirit of freedom but is really the spirit of (negative) power.

The spirit of rebellion is too attached to pride and revenge to be productive and ultimately binds oneself to his adversary. Thus the Luciferian Adversary is an oppositional marriage in Hell (rather than Alchemical Marriage in heaven), the former non-holistic and the latter holistic. Seeking freedom through polarized identification merely creates a dialectical prison of control. There are truths to both Christianity and Luciferianism that need to be integrated but much of both need to be left behind.

The dialectic between them regards the master-slave relationship with the Abrahamic God and self-loathing humility and the preposterous claim one can become God-the-All in the flesh in total arrogance; both are WRONG.

Catholicism, rooted in Judaism, has served a cruel empire and even its Christian sects contain dogmas and myths that destroy progress in consciousness. The Vatican has been perhaps the most corrupt institution on earth supporting, along with governments, the child-trafficking pedophile networks.

The schools of Luciferianism and Rational Satanism can appear to promote good values as seen in these tenets... such as taking responsibility for one's actions and not supporting victim consciousness or herd mentality. A person seasoned in these camps recognizes the folly of pure selfishness that leads to self-sabotage and so attempts to have some common sense ethics in order to be more successful in his egoic pursuits. But this is only about a self-serving-type-ethics (backed with wrong intention) that rejects the higher and is relativistic. Pragmatism is the academic version of this very widespread philosophy.

But these Satanists who try to be ethical and rational do not understand what evil is as the vice of men and his lower aspects of consciousness. Satanism is ultimately a religion based on rationalized evil. People think that can use evil for themselves, make it fashionable, or toy without it without consequence, failing to see how they glorify the privation of Existence and their own self-destruction.

Some sects of Christianity on the other hand recognize objective morality and the higher and that sacrifice and negative consequences may occur with right-action particularly in an upside down world. While it is good that Christians shun occult powers, they also mistakenly shun Occult Philosophy for mythological dogmas.

Ultimately, service to the higher—is not about blind obedience and fear of punishment as false religion has made it, but about seeking to evolve because one understands what is right, understands his Divine End (Apotheosis), and that the Good is Supreme (Ultimate Reality).

On the subject of magic we must first address the semantic confusion as in the late medieval period this term was used to mean, or be a synonym to, Occult Philosophy... Magic in this context means "that which is not explainable to the materialist." However, to the Alchemist and one who has gnosis, such "magic" is rational and explainable (and therefore not magic). Therefore, the more correct definition of magic and one we will use herein is "the powers of apparently influencing the course of events by using mysterious or supernatural forces."

This brings us to the true difference between dark and light occultism. Light occultism is about hidden Philosophical Knowledge, while dark occultism is about Hidden POWER, as "occult" means hidden. This relates to the psychological shadow, the occulted aspects of ourselves we cannot see and aren't aware of. Those in lower vibration dwell in the shadow, as the darkness conceals the truth of themselves and morality. The isolated dark occultist and the conspiratorial Dark Occultist have in common this pursuit of POWER over others as to exploit them.

Occult Philosophy should not be thought of as magic because it is not about giving powers to the individual who studies it, but giving them understanding so that they may evolve and become wise. We actually improve our life conditions this way and find true happiness but as a byproduct of our moral aspiration.

Consciousness evolution is about increasing one's ability to identify truth and morality in oneself, in others, and in the environment, as to take right-actions and grow. It is NOT about using occult information to increase powers or fulfill selfish desires (for even desires must undergo alchemical transformations to change from lower to higher as what appears to be good desires can often be lower desires).

Those who perceive Occult Philosophy as a TOOL are uninitiated or dark occultists. The pursuit of magic, even white magic is not the expression of right intention as it has more to do with gaining powers of influence over others than actual evolution in consciousness. Even defining white magic as attempting "to influence and change reality in accordance with the Higher Will" regards one's influence rather than one's spiritual progress and comes from too much self-aggrandizement.

Even when we use the term "higher will" instead of lower will—as Crowley did, will is always the attribute of the individual and relative to their level of consciousness. We should not conflate (higher) will with Natural Law or identify our will with Natural Law (as divine will is different and much beyond us). Natural Law is ALWAYS HIGHER than our Individual Will which is always limited to our development. (The will is NOT the true HIGHER.)

In alchemy, mind is more superior than the will (mentalism) as being primary and the director of the will (as will in itself has no content as sheer force). In magic, whereas, the willpower is most important since the ability to exert oneself can be a force of attraction and by itself need not be accountable to the true Higher.

It was Crowley's powers of influence that enabled him to create a religion, and cage-creating is a form of gatekeeping. Thelema is a religion of the will and not Natural Law and the subtlety of the difference between "aligning to Laws" and "getting reality to align to our Higher Will" may only be perceived by Initiates, but it is the difference between light and dark occultism. The former requires humility and surrender to Higher Intelligence, and the latter an expression of pride and vanity for reality to conform to oneself.

People like Crowley, who already have charismatic personality traits can easily fall into black magic as it can temporarily increase one's powers to alter reality. This is about tapping into the supernatural which simply means invisible (or occulted) worlds, planes, and dimensions in this multiverse.

People can learn to tune into various invisible frequencies of reality as to have contact with other dimensions (clairvoyance) without having done work in consciousness. Often individuals who figure out how to do this get swept away into the dark occult because they have not worked on the ego and shadow elements of their consciousness. Many professed light occultists like Helena Blavatsky and Charles Leadbeater may be in this category, who while having some philosophical knowledge were caught up in the ego trip of their own abilities.

Often one becomes involved in this because of curiosity and the need for scientific evidence of other worlds. However, the Occult Student doesn't need tangible proof for the existence of other dimensions, as his philosophical reasoning is sufficient to show its necessity through the implication of Infinity. Such reasoning also informs him of why one should not pursue this.

Ceremonial/ritualistic magic and witchcraft is about seeking to cultivate supernatural powers by channeling extra-dimensional energies through tried and true methods. Through the use of props, symbols, and signs with specific chants and repetitive actions, the INTENTION is grounded and sent out to the multiverse like a signal and antenna. This creates a vortex of attraction to earth energies, elemental, lower spirits, astral parasites, and entities. The problem is that this is like inviting a large group of people into your home, and this group not only consists of humans but all sorts of species from insects to mammals and beyond. Each being has their own consciousness and intention and you have no control over them. In the same way creating a portal to these unknown energies poses a great risk. (Those who are unsuccessful in these pursuits may be considered the lucky ones.)

While the sorcerer will get an ego rush from some of the phenomenon that occurs in this invitation and be able to use it to proclaim his magical status to others, karmic repercussions will soon catch up as he is now burdened with the unpredictable, capricious energies that act on their own accord that he may not be able to escape from if they resonate too strongly with his shadow.

Now, of course certain rituals are targeted to summon very specific entities but this gets into demonism, the use of sigils, and invocation of evil spirits. Here black magicians make a pact with the demon to serve him in life, while the person serves the demon in death. Because the intention is of extreme selfishness and exploitation (using the master-slave paradigm)—there is a high karmic price for doing this where “be careful what you ask for” could never be more true.

But even without negatively charged intentions, the very intention to attract any spirit or energy for one's own purposes (even good ones) IS wrong intention. Impure intentions necessarily attract mischievous entities and there is an extremely low probability that higher entities would contact us through these means. Even contacting the dead may be uniting us with these trickster spirits mimicking the dead as many occultist have suggested... Since we only see a sliver of the actual reality, these pursuits can only end in uncertainty... whereas Occult Philosophy is ending with certainty and pursuing what we can definitively know.

The false belief of the magician is that he can control the outer (whether that be what he invites in or external energies). Even 19th century occultist Eliphas Levi claimed that the white magician can control the universal life force (the astral light), which differentiates him from the black magician. However, such control is an illusion, as our purpose is not to control such a universal force, but to develop self-control over our individual consciousness and the proper rulership of oneself under the All. Growth is about letting go of the need to control others and the environment as all free will beings must make their own choices.

Of course, we want to be a good influence to others and our environment... but the best way is to work on ourselves and learn how to properly respond to events as they occur (through right-action). Such magical pursuits are ultimately a distraction from the true Spiritual Work that demands we give our whole attention to this plane of reality and its physical inhabitants.

When gaining powers of influence there need not be any type of supernatural contact (and certainly NOT enlightened knowledge). This can involve becoming more sensitive to the movements of energy (power and control) and developing specific personality traits to be more dominant, strong willed, and charismatic.

Charismatic sorcerer types select prey who have the opposite traits, those who are extremely suggestible, traumatized, weak-minded/weak-willed, and psychically vulnerable. Rather than being some type of magic, the imbalances of power yield attraction with the pairing of those who are too dominant with those who are too submissive; the pairing of strong and weak wills.

Another definition of magic is about creating an illusion to fool others into believing as you wish... and this is certainly what dark occultism is all about—specifically creating the illusion of power, which is why we envision dark occultists in black robes. They use the cloak of secrecy and mystery to create the illusion of power with their victims being those who refuse to investigate evil and demystify it.

However, many dark occultists are not above your average psychopath, charlatan, trickster, clown, manipulator, or troll... they just use more sophisticated tools and elaborate style... and they target a specific audience to feed off of and manipulate, namely those seeking spirituality.

While part of their illusions may involve using elements from Occult Philosophy to inflate their persona, dark occultists are most concerned with the subject of dark psychology: the art and science of manipulation using NLP, body language analysis, hypnosis, and other methods for self-gratification. Manly P. Hall call this "lesser forms" of black magic.

From Manly P. Hall:

The most dangerous form of black magic is the scientific perversion of occult power for the gratification of personal desire. Its less complex and more universal form is human selfishness, for selfishness is the fundamental cause of all worldly evil. A man will barter his eternal soul for temporal power, and down through the ages a mysterious process has been evolved which actually enables him to make this exchange. In its various branches the black art includes nearly all forms of ceremonial magic, necromancy, witchcraft, sorcery, and vampirism. Under the same general heading are also included mesmerism and hypnotism, except when used solely for medical purposes, and even then there is an element of risk for all concerned. Though the demonism of the Middle Ages seems to have disappeared, there is abundant evidence that in many forms of modern thought—especially the so-called "prosperity" psychology, "willpower-building" metaphysics, and systems of "high-pressure" salesmanship—black magic has merely passed through a metamorphosis, and although its name be changed its nature remains the same.

The fact that we have so many books on the subject should be alarming. These methods intersect the dark occult because they are hidden from the victim, as the secret of one's magic trick is hidden from the audience. But many people who engage in this are not dark occultists per se, such as your common pragmatist, business man and woman, those into success religion, the new age/law of attraction cult, and those who have made the single purpose of life: "getting what you want." While our culture promotes selfishness as good and individuals may be successful using dark methods, this will ultimately leave them unhappy—as spiritual growth is absolutely required for happiness.

Those with partial knowledge who believe they are helping others with their wisdom may use very subtle manipulations that they are unaware of as they have convinced themselves of their own errors. Interestingly, Morgue's past career was an illusionist-magician.

Now the globalist Dark Occultists have different interests than the lone dark occultist as the latter is seeking power and control over others while the former already HAS it. The (capitalized) Dark Occultists do not work directly with individuals like the lone one, but through a Structure and Operating System—and they are merely concerned with putting all energy into its functionality. While the lone dark occultist may assist their plans on mere account of their negative influence, his ways are not essential to world domination.

Now, there are of course groups involved with criminal satanic cults dealing with torture and human/animal sacrifice. Groups in the higher ranks of the Social Hierarchy are protected from police investigation as revealed with Pizzagate. The purpose of these rituals is not to summon demons but as a form of trauma-based mind-control to create slaves who will carry out assassinations, espionage, organizational infiltration, prostitution, and other acts. (While mind-control is occurring on every level of the hierarchy down to the average person who believes in the legitimacy of government, here the mind-control is at its most extreme). Satanic rituals with chanting, repetition of trances, and horror imagery are used for hypnosis and to inflict extreme fear. (Image: Fritz Springmeier's book)

Leaked emails showed the Podestas and possibly Clintons partook in spirit cooking with satanic artist and witch Marina Abramovic. These ritualistic ceremonies could be connected to criminal behaviors, but a lot of what Abramovic does is for sick art and entertainment and may have been deliberately exposed to get the culture more comfortable with satanism. The popularization of satanism along with pedophilia and sexualization of children (and societal degradation in general) feeds into the power of the Dark Rulers. Today Abramovic is doing art installations to sell climate change propaganda and is advertising for Microsoft's virtual reality.

Besides using satanic ritual abuse to break people down for mind-control by intelligence agencies and occult groups, getting people involved in criminal satanic rituals can be used for leverage, bribery, and blackmail. This is a tool to control others for the elites, more than something they may directly participate in as there is no reason why the Highest levels of the Dark Hierarchy would pursue activities that would distract them from their single objective and could potentially sabotage it.

The Control System provides refuge for every kind of wicked organized crime, especially child-trafficking and the big business of selling adrenochrome (blood from ritual sacrifice). The most profitable businesses of the world are evil (as evil is what makes our world go round) and corruption trickles from the top down.

Though various individuals into black magic, witchcraft, or satanic crimes may comprise the Dark Ruling Class, it is our endeavor to show that this is irrelevant to their control over the planet. While the Dark Occultists ruling the planet use manipulative techniques of the dark seller and the tricks of the illusionist, it is unlikely they use ceremonial magic to accomplish their deeds. This is because it is virtually impossible to successfully use supernatural powers or other entities for their own purposes without negative consequences. These chaotic and destructive variables would be needless complications for the evil cabal when they are ONLY concerned with the practical realm of practical results in which their power manifests.

THEY don't need supernatural powers to rule the globe NOR Occult Ideas as their success lies their absolute minimalism towards ONLY that which serves their goal. Their ideology of domination need not be any developed system of thought, really... as they share the mind of a reptile more than with an enlightened being.

And yet, all dark occultists help to regress humanity as any bad actor does, whether part of the elites or not, whether conscious of it or not.

What seems more the case is that this evil cabal merely mocks Occult Philosophy for their own ends, taking aspects that are useful to their cult and agenda and discarding the rest. Rather than taking it seriously as to attain some level of enlightenment or gnosis, they co-opt enlightened information with a hydra head as they do to all bodies of information.

Some in this ruling class believe themselves to be royalty, so they may appear to be Dark Luciferians (or have some resonance with them) as they superficially adhere to Hermetic ideas to make them feel superior, omniscient, and god-like. These individuals may surround themselves with beautiful and majestic artworks, décor, furnishings, and libraries pertaining to the subject matter of the occult and evolutionary consciousness, but this is merely to accessorize the ego and embellish their regal lifestyles. Being involved in such mockery, they incur more karma than their replica (psychopath) who has no philosophical inkling.

To create cultist cohesion and hierarchical structure, rituals and symbols based on esoteric ideas are used. True alchemical initiation is inverted into a satanic rite of passage into their death cult, a pale and twisted shadow of true passage. They are not concerned with the content but only that it provide a secretive structure to operate through.

These Dark Occultists may use the word "the DEAD" to mean the masses who are not aware that they are being manipulated—rather than meaning people who haven't undergone the process of alchemical initiation, to which the term "unbegun" is more appropriate.

In this regard, we can consider "AWAKE" those aware of the mass manipulation programs going on, but not necessarily Esoterically Awake... and we will continue to make this distinction. While the conspiracy researcher has awakened care for humanity by caring about what is happening to us as a whole... True Care is reserved for the Initiate and beyond, as its meaning is united to knowing the difference between good and evil (Natural Law), not just politically but internally. (Most conspiracy researchers are stuck in false religion, statism, and ego-identification.)

While it is true that the herd of humanity hasn't awakened True Care, neither have the Dark Occultists, who know nothing of actual initiation. The Dark Occultists merely CARE about their wicked agenda, better described as a reflexive predatory instinct; their "Dark Unity" is simply a mutual resonance of this.

In final analysis, these Dark Occultists are lower than the DEAD and it would be truer to say that THEY ARE THE DEAD and humanity is simply ASLEEP.

What ALL dark occultists have in common is that they are ultimately relativists believing that their lust for egoic power to dominate or control others is good. Even if they are conscious of their evil, which those at the top have to be, they see the evil they are perpetrating as good for themselves, so they invert opposites—which is relativism. Deceiving people and making them think good is evil, is not the works of someone who understands objective morality but someone who is deluded themselves.

Even though Satanists and Luciferians proclaim to be against solipsism, because they are moral relativists they cannot escape it. Truth and morality can at times serve the individual's lower nature and can be a selective tool used to exert their power and influence.

The lone dark occultists communication of spiritual half-truths is more dangerous than the common charlatan, but the Dark Occultists of the one-world-order aren't interested in being charlatans although they are quite interested in dark psychology. They are primarily concerned with a different task: the task of operating the Control System which involves a different set of information as we will get to. Occult Philosophy is generally useless to their hellish goals.

Would they still be considered Dark Occultists? Well... in a way, and we will have to explore this through more refinement of language. In the meantime, we will still refer to them as capitalized Dark Occultists.

Chapter 4. KARMA DEFLECTION? ORDER-GIVERS and ORDER-FOLLOWERS

One who understands Natural Law, understands that you can never defy Natural Law and be successful. Beings manifested within the relative plane are within Nature, not outside its bounds, and all are subject to these Laws without exceptions, as the immutable conditions of creation and evolution.

Rather than subverting Cosmic Moral Law, it seems more probable that the Dark Occultists (those who rule humanity) simply reject its existence and mock it. Even if they study Hermetic Philosophy, they necessarily invert its meaning in resonance with their subhuman nature.

Karma and moral consequence are a complex topic because it transcends epistemology; we can never know how and when consequences for anyone's actions will play out, and there are many lifetimes to consider—which is unavailable knowledge.

Action and reaction occur along the wheel of time, beyond the visible where the intelligence of the universe intersects a multitude of cycles, archetypal patterns, moral lessons, and conditions together in unforeseen times and ways that bring the necessary conditions for the evolution of each soul.

(Note for the following: When we discuss karma in greater or lesser terms, we are simultaneously discussing evil in greater or lesser terms, as karma in the sense we are using it, is simply the balancing and correction of unjust action.)

Mark Passio believes that the Dark Occultists understand the Principle of Causality and Karma and can insulate themselves from negative consequences, but he rightly admits that they cannot truly avoid their fate, but only deflect the inevitable in death and beyond.

It is erroneous to believe that one can deflect, lessen, or reduce their karma and exhibits

“DEFLECTING” KARMIC CONSEQUENCE

High-level Dark Occultists, knowing about the existence and operation of Natural Law, understand that they cannot out-right break it and get away unscathed. So just how DO they accomplish their objectives successfully without being held fully karmically accountable for their actions? They “get away” with their evil scheming and planning because, at the very base level, THEY THEMSELVES ARE NOT ACTUALLY PERFORMING THE ACTIONS they command others to do. They get their minions, their mind-controlled slaves, their cult members – their ORDER FOLLOWERS – to do their dirty work for them by manipulating them through fear and ignorance into breaking Moral Law FOR THEM. Thus, the Dark Occultist shield themselves TO A SIGNIFICANT DEGREE from the brunt of karmic consequence, while their ignorant order followers inherit the “lion’s share” of moral culpability and karmic debt.

No Order-Follower is a True Christian, because True Christians follow Conscience, not orders.

ignorance of the immutable nature behind Principle and the Equality Under the Law. Of course it is possible that the Dark Occultists can believe in such a falsehood, but it is unlikely because as relativists—objective good and evil are meaningless to them. They don't believe that Nature (and thus Natural Law) is above them, but that their accomplishments are their gift to nature. They believe they are at the cutting-edge of evolution—a belief that our false science and technology is based on.

Passio has done well to expose the evils of order-following and order-followers, those who think obeying orders is good rather than using their conscience to decide whether the action they are ordered to perform is good. While his main example applies to the military who have an obvious chain of command, and who are ordered to take wrong actions (to murder and imprison others), we must understand this dynamic between order-givers (masters) and order-followers (slaves) as the make up of every hierarchical institution (as is Passio's point as well).

Within the general hierarchy, order-givers of the lower levels are also order-followers to the higher levels, until one reaches the top to the FIRST order-gives (the Dark Occultists themselves), who know and implement the Dark Agenda to kill, maim, negatively mutate, and enslave humanity.

THE PAINFUL TRUTH

The ORDER-FOLLOWER always bears MORE Moral Culpability than the order-giver, because the Order-Follower is the one who actually performed the action, and in taking such action, actually brought the resultant harm into physical manifestation. ORDER-FOLLOWING is the pathway to every form of Evil and Chaos in our world. It should NEVER be seen as a “virtue” by anyone who considers themselves a moral human being. Order-Followers have ultimately been personally responsible and morally culpable for every form of Slavery and every single Totalitarian regime that has ever existed upon the face of the Earth.

It is proposed by Passio that order-followers are more morally culpable with have greater karmic repercussions than the order-givers because they are taking the destructive action, whereas the order-giver simply gives the order. By getting the order-followers to break Moral Law and commit evil crimes, Passio believes the Dark Occultists can shield themselves from the brunt of bad consequences... but there are problems with this assertion.

The first is that order-givers do not avoid taking immoral action as giving a destructive order is an immoral action itself and even more destructive of an action because it initiates the process of evil acts. Even though the pyramid is an immoral structure, it is provides the context in which to discern levels of moral responsibility, as we should not judge behavior in a vacuum or in the absence of context.

Because of the abuse of power, the culpability of the order-giver is actually MORE than the order-follower, just as the mastermind is more culpable than his puppet. The Dark Occultists are the causal origin for the trickling down of all actions within the pyramid and so bear the brunt of this karma.

To frame it another way: Think of normal causality. We have cause and effect (a main principle of Natural Law) that applies and follows its way down in a somewhat linear manner to the final conclusion and consequence of a given action (causality does NOT end here, for in truth we can trace all effects to Source and Primary Origin). If we take it and apply it to the chain of events of the order-giver, we quickly see that origin is primary with regards to effect. The system which the order-giver wields power can be a direct metaphor to any physical weapon or mechanistic tool, which once set into motion follows as if from night to day to carry out its engineered and intended consequences (obviously with collateral damage as an ancillary benefit to any nefarious agenda).

Though we find human agency at every step of this mechanism, and though karma applies in every stage of its processes, the initial trigger carries the most conscious intention. Due to the law of Mentalism we see this initiating intention as the original mover of the action. When we hold a gun we expect a bullet to fire when we pull the trigger. So too does the order-giver expect that pistol of state to be fired upon command with as reliable an effect.

Therefore, though we perceive on one level that the Dark Occultists leverage action by proxy of others agency and karma, we understand at the initiate level that the person who fires the gun takes on the brunt of moral culpability. It's even greater than the murderer with a single gun and a single victim. Exponentially so. The Dark Occultists in command over the entire system have taken the gun of state and pulled the trigger and death and suffering and collateral karmic fallout on myriad levels has been put into motion.

From a single directive therefore they have taken the ACTION and become a mass murderer. How can we ever believe that a single order-follower at the bottom of this chain of events can possibly approach the level of psychopathy and evil capable of the one at the top? Order following bears consequences and karma, but order giving bears more.

This brings us to a second point already alluded to: behaviors aren't the only component involved in karmic consequence. The Principle of Causality applies to all aspects of consciousness and our thoughts, feelings, and especially intentions do matter in the outcome of things and alter the context of our actions. A person who accidentally kills someone has not committed a murder, whereas a premeditated murderer has committed a crime with the same outcome. A person who does bad things with some good intentions is not as immoral as a person who does bad things with purely bad intentions. In both situations, there will still be negative karmic effects, but to differing degrees according to the other aspects of consciousness involved.

It is contradictory to claim that Principles only apply to (or mainly apply to) actions. Thoughts and feelings/intention drive behaviors and can even be seen as a type of action that occurs in the interior, if we define action as energy that presents itself in the manifest. (As a side note, if we do not correct our thoughts and emotions—causality applies, even when no direct action seems to have come from them, as this energy manifests in some way even if the relationship between thought/feeling and action can be unconscious and subtle.)

Because the Dark Occultists manipulate others with evil/selfish intent, knowing the evil they are unleashing, they are more immoral than the order-followers who believe they are serving society in a positive way—as this is the deception that keeps the Control System running. The military, for example, believes they serve and protect the country by sacrificing their lives and killing “terrorists.” Yes, there are still usually mixed intentions and culpability present—but not as much as the people who use them as disposable tools for the opposite reasons.

To summarize: Culpability and moral responsibility increase as the levels of the hierarchy increase, so the highest responsibility comes from the top. Backed with evil intent, the Dark Occultists take the action (with their minds and hearts aligned) to implement a Dark Plan that involves masses of people. They foresee their evil ends due to their surveillance systems and informational access as their moves are calculated.

Having the power to make decisions that effect the entire world and abusing that power is a much greater sin than the evils of each individual without that power.

Rather than deflecting fate, the Dark Occultists deflect energy and attention from themselves. They put all their energy into creating the plans and thus the orders—for OTHERS to perform the physical labor and they avoid attention by using secrecy. The order-giver is concealed by the order-follower by OCCULTING the hierarchy. Lower levels are more exposed to public scrutiny, while the highest are “protected” by invisibility and secrecy.

Another reason why the Dark Occultists do not face repercussions in the way we would like them to, is because their authoritarian structure is supported by human thought and energy. As the creators of man's law, they will never be accountable within man's law, a fact that most in the Truth community will never discover as they scramble to give their lawsuits to the courts to save us.

However, being the parasites of humanity, these evil psychopaths will face grave consequences throughout their future extending further than this life, even if they seem to get away with a lot before they die. Reincarnation must be real for cosmic justice to exist and there is no escape to reaping what we sow.

The Dark Occultists are NOT shielded from Natural Law but other things such as a cloak of secrecy, the lower levels of the hierarchy, and man's law. They remain as culpable as ever.

On the good side, because the Dark Occultists don't understand Natural Law, things will get more and more difficult the more they attempt to implement their high-tech system of control. It will prove disastrous for them as much exists beyond their foresight and planning. Even if humanity doesn't wake up enough to tip the scale, the level of unethical control garnered by the Dark Occultists will endure great resistance from Cosmic Laws. This is why we live during a time of collapse and fall of empire rather than its peak.

Instead of having Natural Law Knowledge with the desire to subvert it, they have the knowledge of leveraging power and the desire to maintain it, which brings us to the next chapter.

Chapter 5. THE “KNOWLEDGE” OF THE DARK OCCULTISTS

What would a group of psychopathic individuals who want to rule the world believe in? Certainly not Natural Law, but in man's law—the tool of control behind all governments. Because they practice eugenics (dictating who lives and dies), exploiting and destroying those “below” them, they obviously believe in their own superiority and in the ideologies of elitism, materialism, social Darwinism, and moral relativism... which is simply rationalized barbarianism.

In this way they can be considered Satanists at the top of the food chain, but Dark Luciferians less so as their belief-system compels NO cultivation being basic sadism. Some may believe they are god but this is like how an animal identifies as conqueror, as action is more prioritized than ideology—ideology is left for the intellectual observers in the lower levels.

Rather than attempting to tweak or hack Natural Law, the Dark Occultists operate from a different set of principles and knowledge about evil and how it operates; evil being that which violently harms (or violates) another. This body of information is about how power and control are leveraged against people in organized fashion and some call it the “laws of power,” or the “art of war,” or the Machiavellian science. This is about how to deceive and perpetrate fraud and treachery upon large groups of people to employ jurisdiction over them.

We may ask the question: is this particular “knowledge” or “science” part of metaphysical knowledge? ... and the answer is that while it is related (via the Principle of Polarity), it is not metaphysical knowledge or true science, per se, but about information that serves a particular immoral task: how to enslave others.

In this way, it is relative rather than absolute knowledge, because it pertains to how evil operates upon this plane when certain conditions are met, rather than the Knowledge of Good and Evil in a spiritual context. Because we understand the Good by understanding its opposite (apophasis), the study of evil is significant to our general studies in Metaphysics and quite important in Alchemy (Self-Knowledge).

While most of us are more evolved than the Dark Occultists, it is important to know that in the course of evolution we have been as evil as they... and so there is karmic consequence involved in our incarnation here with these types of beings. We have come here to fully negate and transcend that type of evil as well as evolve the lesser forms of evil within us that still have relation to psychopathy... (for example selfishness, opportunism, exploitation, and egotism/narcissism, all involve a lack of empathy).

The Dark Occultists are not seeking objective truth, but pragmatic truth: applied evil to achieve desired results. What works isn't what is truth in a metaphysical sense, as morality and truth are united. Systematic evil works when used upon subjects who are ignorant of evil and hence have no self-defense; their ignorance feeds evil. As long as humans are in this state of lower consciousness, they can be controlled in particular ways—but rising in consciousness would render the methods of the Dark Occultists obsolete, revealing that evil (of this nature) is not necessary and can be ended.

It is not that the Dark Occultists use Natural Law for deflection—but that they use human ignorance of their existence for their support.

We may think of evil's “laws” more as tenets that have some practical application; but because its substance is illusory, its application will always fall short so they aren't really LAWS—which by definition are immutable. While certain methods work in the short-term (due to ignorance and hierarchy), the perpetrator will experience his own destruction at some future point that will ultimately help his evolution... as good will always prevail—for that is the Ultimate Principle and End in which all things find their completion in.

This is less about “science” as it is not grounded in metaphysics, and more about using the scientific method and Trivium for nefarious purposes, as certain data is taken in, analyzed, and acted upon in a methodological manner that will yield the most potent results. A single question need be asked: What must be input to receive the desired output? It is basic engineering.

Thus, the dark occultists are simply social engineers and the ultimate pragmatists, who see everything in terms of how to dominate their prey and what serves that end using strategic war-gaming. The highest level of the pyramid of power isn't arrived at by the intelligence of Natural Law understanding but based on the knowledge of the tenets of power and the skilled use of them.

In a lower vibrational state, humans are collectivists and are either the small group of engineers designing collectivist systems or the masses of obedient followers bound by these systems. Certain animal species create dominator-hierarchies as certain animal behavior expresses the lower consciousness of man (unconsciously and instinctively). The Dark Occultists basically do what animals do in human form, controlled by carnal instinct and primal fear. Because they have the capacity for moral thought, they are more culpable than animals of course.

Because this Dark Cult has existed for thousands of years and has figured out tried-and-true methods to satisfy their primitive impulses over time, social hierarchies have naturally evolved from this. These collectivist systems of control are refined through the trial and error process over time and because this is the sole thing these individuals give their time and attention to.

The power differential of this hierarchy is not based on Natural Law knowledge, but rather the knowledge of power and the pyramid itself, which is occulted from the masses. While in the feudal past we collectively knew a hierarchy existed (even though we didn't know who operated behind the throne), now days the hierarchy is completely obfuscated by the ideas of democracy.

Just as there are protocols for how to farm animals, there are protocols for how to farm humans. Because humans are more evolved than animals, developing methods of control must be targeted to the specific qualities of the human species. This means acquiring a certain level of understanding of human consciousness (their thoughts, feelings, and behaviors—aka psychology), but only up to the degree that is required to control them... as additional information is superfluous (time-wasting) and does not serve the Agenda.

This body of psychological information is simply based on observation. Just as a cold and detached scientist would study rats in a cage or a mouse in a maze, human-beings are studied like soulless objects. In our society, test subjects (of all species) are manipulated to study stimuli and reaction like Pavlov's experimentation. It is easily discovered that systems of reward and punishment (operant conditioning), manipulation of perception (deception), control of information, and social pressure via consensus-thinking (conformity experiments) can control behavior.

Try this and see the results is the basic imperative to discover what is most beneficial to achieve mind-control, social conditioning, and behavioral manipulation. Human experimentation has been done through the CIA's Project Paperclip, MKULTRA, and other programs, hence we may deduce that this has occurred unilaterally across all supposedly disparate organizations for a long time (and perhaps since the beginning of civilization itself). It is no hidden secret that predators must study meticulously their prey.

The Dark Occultists cannot be accurately called "master psychologists," as their understanding is limited to one practical purpose. Even if they study the spiritual aspects of man, which they certainly have, it is not to learn about spirituality but to have greater leverage over man. In fact, they may even consider spirituality a human weakness... and all of our weaknesses are turned into the science of exploitation; no higher knowledge necessary.

They do not seek knowledge for the sake of having knowledge as the true Occult Student would. While they understand objective reality to the degree that it helps them, they do not care about objective truth (inextricably linked to morality). As materialists, they do not understand themselves or cosmic evolution.

They lack any wisdom about the psyche or about alchemical transformation, for any understanding of this would fundamentally alter and change who they are and what they do. Although they cannot be 100% evil, as nothing in existence can be, they remain psychopaths devoid of empathy, love, or compassion—the very virtues of psychological knowledge and development.

For these reasons, it is understandable why some people think the Dark Occultists are born of a reptilian species. While it is true that genetics are altered by consciousness (epi-genetics), we should refrain from giving the alien debate too much attention—for consciousness is always more important than the physical vehicle, just as the mind is more important than the brain in pursuing knowledge (if we seek a holistic benefit and not to turn oneself into a superior calculator). Whereas all the events of genetic change within species and cross-species are too complicated to comprehend and historically occulted... consciousness can be understood of which genetics are merely the effect of.

Ultimately, we can never know if and how an alien agenda is playing out—and this speculation cannot be fruitful in terms of truth-discovery. The Occult Student pursues questions that can be answered, spending little time on those that cannot be.

It is more appropriate to see this dark ruling class as inhabiting a reptilian-like consciousness because they are nothing short of cold-blooded predators, but we do not have to take this literally and overstep the bounds of epistemology (of what we can know). Without question, their thoughts, feelings, actions are driven from the reptilian mind, and not some type of transcendental dark unity. (Dark Unity as presented by Passio exists in a de facto manner rather than a spiritual cohesion as implied by the term).

It is likely that elite bloodlines are preserved for group cohesion and what they believe to be genetic superiority (as they are eugenicists). They are dedicated to breeding programs of all kinds and the complete control over human genetics. While their genes have been influenced by their consciousness... one is not determined by our genes—as they are not fixed (epigenetics).

As a side note, some believe the Dark Occultists to be fourth dimensional entities, but it is unnecessary for them to have contact with the fourth dimension to have the powers they do. It is the third-dimensional realm they rule through three-dimensional tactics.

Returning back to their manipulations of control. Here are some of the techniques presently used:

1. Create the illusion of authority with government and federal institutions to control thoughts, feelings, and behaviors. Create belief in authority through education, media, and advertising. Teach the lie that government exists for the interests, rights, and freedoms of the people with the false ideologies of democracy.
2. Pretend voting and political representation has merit, when the politicians at the top are hired actors following a script and those who aren't go nowhere in the system. Everything is planned and organized from the top down.
3. Keep people in a childlike (regressed) state of consciousness where they project mother and father archetypes upon authoritarian institutions to engender blind trust and obedience. Create the left/right paradigm to divide populations when it is a one-party system. Each side represents corrupted feminine or masculine values and will keep people locked in mental imbalance.
4. Have man's law protect organized crime, the Occult Hierarchy, and the global elite while prosecuting those who do not comply or get in the way.
5. Convince the world that man's law is about true justice when it merely locks up isolated criminals who aren't part of the elites or larger organized crime. Release criminals when you want to generate social chaos.
6. Promise protection and security for the surrendering of rights and freedoms. Pretend the Constitution has meaning. Invert the meanings of terms, where freedom is slavery (newspeak).

7. Make every industry of man a secretive hierarchy that merges into the global hierarchy so only a few individuals can control all systems from the top down.
8. Keep people ignorant of this Occult Hierarchy and its evils (the organized crime it protects, political/social agendas, crimes of intelligence/federal agencies); use secrecy in think-tank meetings and government programs to hide or occult evil.
9. Create and own the money supply to control and limit human labor, energy, and potential and to define value and encourage greed and unhealthy ambition.
10. Use money as the rewards system to get humans to do work that contributes to our enslavement and genocide; reward (pay) more to those who commit more evil in the world. Psychopaths rise to the top.
11. Use top down pressure with the creation of money (inflation) to create economic ruin, use financial tools (like derivatives) to create even bigger economic crashes.
12. Monopolize corporations to continually consolidate market power at the top. Most corporations are unethical and steer productivity towards destructive ends. (This is where the so-called educated will work at, who will make a living at the cost of their authenticity and human welfare.)
13. Use material comfort and convenience to gain support for methods of control.
14. Make survival incredibly difficult for the so-called uneducated (low wages/high rent). When two parents have to work, they have less influence in the child's life who becomes more susceptible to indoctrination by the state.
15. Dumb down the population with bad education; prevent development of critical thinking skills. Occult the Seven Classical Liberal Arts (Trivium/Quadrivium). Make them smart enough to be worker drones (as a form of enslavement) but not smart enough to figure out they've been had.
16. Teach postmodernism: fashionable sophistry and relativism that sounds smart! And teach critical theory that examines cultural trends through the lens of relativism. This opposes philosophical learning and thinking preventing the understanding of rights, morality, and sovereignty. The less rational, the more controlled human-beings are.
17. Use cultural Marxism and corrupted polarizing social revolutions to create social conflict, instability, and confusion, causing destruction to the family unit and community and generational rifts. Today this is being done with LGBTQ propaganda.
18. Co-opt the meaning of social justice. Give people false forms of social injustices to obscure more important ones. Create a cult who thinks they are awake and makes all issues solely about race, gender, and sexuality to keep the issues of the past perpetually present. This reinforces identity politics, ego-identification, pride, identify confusion, etc... it stops procreation (eugenics) and hides the global picture of slavery.
19. With technological advancements feminize society and make the rejection of masculinity a cultural value. Artificially make women the dominant sex since in their lower state they are more collectivists and followers than men and will socially shame and condemn those who aren't going along with the program.
20. Indoctrinate the masses with collectivism and co-opted slave religions that promote learned helplessness, lack of sovereignty, herd mentality, slave mentality, cowardice, and belief that obedience is a virtue.

21. For the non-religious promote the new age, success religion, materialism, and pragmatism where social status and wealth are seen as the objects of enlightenment.
22. Co-opt the new age movement to espouse the beliefs of Dark Luciferianism, where the half-truths that everyone is God and everyone is one is used for ego glorification, blindness to evil, and political collectivism.
23. Make people psychological weak and so emotionally sensitive and immature that they cannot handle conflict or the existence of evil and prefer to live in positivistic delusions.
24. Install subconscious programming to reinforce base ego as vanity is an extremely potent weapon. Lock them into cyclic patterns to keep one spinning back and forth between the two states of self loathing (mental desolation, aka despair) and narcissism (inflated self-importance).
25. Normalize satanism to degrade culture with the lack of values and promote selfishness by confusing it with self-love. Make the satanic belief in abortion popular so that society celebrates the mass murder of their own kind.
26. Control, restrict, and censor information through media, advertising, big tech companies, and educational programs. Control the narrative and program populations what you want them to believe.
27. Use divide and conquer tactics through political/ideological division to keep people fighting against each other... a distraction and obfuscation of the true enemy.
28. Use false flag events, manufactured terrorism (war), media hype, and false statistics to keep people addicted to the wrong narratives. Pit country against country when we are already in global government to divide and conquer.
29. Keep people in a constant state of fear/terror of an enemy, whether that be a terrorist (individual, organization, or country), technological/nuclear/cyber wars, viral pandemics, or carbon dioxide. Always act as the savior to these issues; offer the solution with more authoritarian control.
30. Use "saving the environment" as a smokescreen to implement 5G smart cities, more taxes, and control over energy use. This will move us into global technocracy.
31. Put harmful chemicals, toxins, and genetically-modified organisms (nonlethal weapons) into food, water, medicine (vaccines), and air to slowly kill off the weak (eugenics). Also add sterilizing agents to these things to prevent procreation.
32. Use corrupted science and technology to implement a digital enslavement system, where each individual will eventually be connected to the cloud with bio-sensor implants. Create harmful electronics and WIFI towers that emit harmful frequencies.
33. Use the genetic revolution to create toxic foods and harmful substances and to modify (mutate) the human being into a degraded species (transhumanism). Create hybrid species to blur the line between animal and man.
34. Convince the world that science and technology exists for our benefit and is the cutting edge of our evolution.

In academia, all types of method "sciences" are used to help the Control System. The subjects of sociology/social theory, mob psychology, behavioral psychology, mind-control, hypnosis, psychiatry, etc. are about understanding how to manipulate mind and behavior. Genetic engineering, biotechnology, nanotechnology, micro-robotics, synthetic biology, bio/micro-electronics, etc. are about how to manipulate the human body—and these sciences are becoming more prevalent as seen with the recent mRNA injections.

Cybernetics, information technologies, economics, business, telecommunications, network science, computer programming, systems engineering, artificial intelligence, etc. are all method “sciences” dealing with external systems. They are used to build the electronic infrastructure of the Control system and collectivist war-machine.

The drive behind all these sciences is, of course, how to control the individual: 1) psychologically in isolation, 2) psychologically in groups, 3) physically through the body, and 4) through connecting the body to electronic networks, and 5) from all aspects of the external collective structure).

The Dark Occultists integrate information from these fields to bring integration to their stream-lined systems in the most practical and efficient way; this is about being clever, not intelligent. Humans at any level of consciousness could understand what they are doing if they could transcend their fear of evil.(Again, we must emphasize that their abilities to integrate—have nothing to do with holistic consciousness but about having the most control over the human being.)

Besides theoretical knowledge is the practical knowledge of how our particular Control System actually operates through its protocols. Think of the military and CIA and how there are levels of “security clearance” and access to information about the entire system and how it operates. The global hierarchy is compartmentalized the same way: each higher level knows more about the entire system and can control more than the level below it. Each ascending level is more integrated than the former, condensing the information of the activities of the former like consolidated files in a computer system making it easier to control subordinate levels.

We can imagine the entire system being operated by moving a few levers that consolidate this control over each industry. While this metaphor is inaccurate and too simplistic, it helps us understand that what seems like great complexity need not be.

While individuals towards the top appear to have more control than those lower—they remain puppets of the highest level. The politicians and world leaders are not at the top of the Occult Hierarchy, even though some may believe they are or are close to the top because they cannot see the levels above it. They are merely frontmen, actors, puppets, and mouthpieces for the levels above them. How they got to their position could be for various reasons; they could have been groomed since birth in a ruling bloodline, inflicted with trauma-based mind-control, motivated by their own lust for power and the rewards system, etc.

Fritz Springmeier, researcher on the illuminati bloodlines, claims that the Council of 3 is the highest level of the pyramid with the Council of 5, the Council of 9, The Grand Druid Council, and the the Committee of 300 below.

Even though this is a working theory that may be inaccurate, common sense tells us that a group of 3 people at the top sounds plausible because the smaller the group, the more efficient, stable, and long-lasting it can be. The smallest numerical unit for a group is three, the number of checks and balances. Two could conspire to kill one and recruit a new number 3, but with more people more possible group divisions. The more people at the very top, the less potential unity, the more potential in-fighting and unpredictable variables and outcomes. As long as every level below is directed from the top, the larger numbers of those lower levels would merely play out the unity at the very top. (This is like how any pyramid scheme works.)

Christians believe that Satan (or Lucifer) is at the top of the pyramid, still stuck in mythological projections where good and evil are personified. However, people are at the top due to their free will choices. These individuals are expressing evil, but not the epitome or archetype of evil—as they will eventually evolve out of their lower state of consciousness.

(A couple of adjacent points: The pyramid shape corresponds to levels of consciousness as manifested on the planet, with the fewest people having a higher consciousness, and the most number having relatively lower consciousness. This allows the Pyramid of Power its success (conditional mutual reinforcement) where in this Dark Pyramid, the lowest consciousness is at the top. Many believe that individuals at the top of a power pyramid could be good[like Plato's philosopher-kings—but this is impossible, for the very pursuit of power is a vice and their higher level of consciousness puts them on the correct pyramid.]

In addition to the information about the actual Control System, there is the historical and real-time information derived from the human population. Using surveillance capitalism and smart technology as tools, the ruling class has access to personality profiles (values, preferences, beliefs) and can know what everyone is doing at anytime with tracking devices, GPS, and sophisticated data-acquisition systems. With this practical information, they build AI algorithms with statistical computing, hardware and software programs, and predictive models to plan events. Soon bio-sensor implants will become widely used so that our physical bodies and brains will be hacked (this announced by Klaus Schwab of the World Economic Forum). Sensory-electronic substances have already been discovered in the Covid-19 vaccines (follow my Bioterrorism series). They will not only collect data on our output, but control input (harmful signals and frequencies) through bidirectional communication.

The Dark Occultists use the one-eye symbolism (of Horus) with a false materialistic interpretation... that omniscience can be achieved through surveillance and that True Knowledge is spying to know what everyone is doing and violating the right to privacy. This obviously has nothing to do with the real Eye of Enlightenment—as the attainment of Natural Law Understanding. The All is what is omniscient. There can no spiritual vision through a Control System.

We could boil down the knowledge of the Dark Occultists as having four parts (that of course overlap): 1) the tenets of power and methodologies of control, 2) the human psyche and behavior, individually and collectively, 3) how our particular Control System operates, and 4) informational data on individuals and populations using characterization for predictive-modeling and planning.

While there is the belief that the Dark Occultists are occulting Natural Law information, it is more true that they subvert any information that threatens statism, the world religion of modernity. What they do occult is information about their existence, their methods of control, the Control System at large and their agendas.

We have now arrived at the fact that there can be two meanings of occult knowledge. Lower cased it can mean ANY knowledge that is occulted or hidden, so it can refer to this information about the Control System and the knowledge of evil (power, control, coercion). Occult power is about hidden power as evil must mask and conceal itself and operate in the shadows.

This is occulted by informational organizations rooted in secrecy. Thus, to discover this information (of which there are endless books on), one must commit himself to reading and research that goes beyond the smokescreen of the mainstream media and indoctrination stations.

Because the Dark Occultists conceal this information, we can continue to call them "Dark Occultists," although other terms may be more fitting. They deliberately withhold and hide information to humanity's plight. Although the lone dark occultist goes more into Hermetic Science to withhold information to gatekeep, these Dark Occultists withhold simply to manipulate... spiritual implications unnoticed.

Unfortunately, they do not have to put much energy into occulting evil because humanity occults it from themselves with their fear, cowardice, and weakness.

Capitalized Occult Knowledge involves Hermeticism/Philosophy, Alchemy/Esoteric Psychology, and the Seven Liberal Arts. In this sense it is considered occult because it is occulted to man's lower level of consciousness and thus absent from his systems. The undeveloped person cannot perceive or understand the Seven Laws, which are hidden from the senses and require rational and spiritual development to perceive. Once initiated, they becomes self-evident.

Psychologically the occult is the subconscious, the shadow, and hidden aspects of the self that must be brought to light for integration. There are seven alchemical processes that are occulted because until one goes through a transformation in consciousness to change his fundamental character, these concepts are beyond him.

Whereas understanding occult knowledge of the Control System requires research with proper critical thinking skills, understanding Occult Philosophy—while involving the same—also requires much more (especially inner work).

We can see how it would be easy to lump the knowledge of the Conspiracy with Natural Law since both are occulted information. Mark correctly sees the former as the problem and the latter as the solution. The first regards our conditions and the latter is simply Spiritual Wisdom required to change our conditions.

While Natural Law information has no intrinsic relation to the Control System, knowledge of the system, its evil, and conspiracy is necessary to advance with Occult Philosophy as such philosophy deals with the nature and expression of good and evil. If we cannot perceive evil in the world, then we are spiritually blind.

On the positive, our unique ability to see the global conspiracy contrasted with previous eras, can speed up our own evolution and ascension, since we can see the root of evil, we can see evil holistically, and not get lost in the branches. We can see how all the vices of men contribute to a monolithic monstrous machine.

Both types of occult knowledge are necessary for spiritual growth but this will be incredibly difficult to achieve for both types require confronting evil and fear. Most people only want to project goodness onto the world and attempt to live in a happy bubble as to believe what our political leaders tell us because the deception is too emotionally uncomfortable and even life shattering.

By not desiring to know and understand evil, human-beings contribute to their collective doom. Part of evolution is to learn how to handle and deal with the evils of harsh reality without getting too thrown off balance... as to also experience the great beauty and goodness in our personal lives. We have to expand our consciousness to hold both the horror and greatness of this world.

Many have started to deocult the Global Conspiracy because of the enormous medical fraud and tyranny achieved by the COVID-19 plandemic. They are getting red pill on the Rockefeller's, the Rothchild's, the Council of Foreign Relations, the World Economic Forum... and all the rest. Crisis is often needed to foster awakening.

But most (in our lifetime) will never reach the second as to discover Natural Law and Self-Knowledge to the degree of an Initiate. It takes immense courage to confront collective evil, but even MORE to confront the evil in oneself. While it is difficult to accept massive organized evil in the world, it is incomparably harder to see and transmute the evil within, and that shadow work is critical to the alchemical path of initiation and for one to have gnosis of good and evil.

Chapter 6. EXOTERIC AND ESOTERIC RELIGION

It is virtually impossible for one to not have a religion, as even the agnostic believes he cannot know and the atheist believes in the negation of the Higher. Everyone can at least conceive of the Higher even to reject it or claim they cannot know anything of it and this is because the Higher is a real concept and part of Nature (the medieval ontological argument for God's existence). We either distort Truth (ignorance and belief) or find Truth (Knowledge and Gnosis). Religion-creation comes before spiritual discovery... and even nihilism is a type of religion.

In the "Fake-Ass Christians Seminar" Mark Passio claims that the Dark Occultists invented exoteric religion to keep the masses away from the truth of their esoteric (Natural Law) core as with Esoteric Christianity.

Upon investigation one discovers, however, that esoteric religion is a problem, the masses take a greater part in creating all religions, the Dark Occultists are also locked in lower religion, and that their co-option of religion can be done without Natural Law understanding.

At this point we must mention that every religion (and we use religion in the negative sense connected to the meaning of cult and limited belief-system) has an esoteric and exoteric side. While Passio claims that the esoteric side is the true side (relating to Natural Law Philosophy), we challenge this as esoteric religion is not the same as Esoteric Knowledge. (People can believe in esoteric ideas without gaining any philosophical foundation or noncontradictory understanding.)

Esoteric regards less known aspects, while exoteric regards the more known aspects of religion.

Religions (both esoteric/exoteric) are developed from knowing that there is a greater reality and purpose to existence, but not having the mental, emotional, and spiritual development to gain proper understanding and interpretation of it.

The dark occult is connected to both esoteric and exoteric aspects of religion.

Astro-theology has played a part in religion-creation as humans have explored their relationship with the Higher starting with literal interpretation. By examining the heavens, celestial bodies, and their cycles, these ancient esoteric religions such as solar, lunar, and stellar cults were based on the Hermetic fragment "as above, so below." From this... myths, legends, and stories were generated from planetary archetypes and cosmic events seeking to bring man in union with God.

The root of the religion contains esoteric fragments of Occult Philosophy like the Golden Rule... but the esoteric core of all religions isn't in pure form—otherwise there wouldn't exist the religion, which necessarily contains corruption. To believe that all religions (before their co-option by Dark Occultists) were started by Initiates is a false idea; as religions are collectivist cages formed by misunderstanding and thus resonate with the dark occult.

(Jesus, Buddha, and Krishna didn't create their religions and could have been evolved beings—even though likely a blend of fact and fictional archetype, Hermes too. True initiates are more likely to be unknown rather than cultural idols.)

A religion becomes exoteric when the cult becomes so big (due to tribal consciousness) that its myths and conventions become part of culture and of course its esoteric roots become more watered down and distorted when appealing to the masses.

We should not assume that those who pursue the esoteric religious side are that much higher in consciousness than the exoteric as both sides take kernels of truth and mix it with dogma, belief, authority, and institutions due to the misunderstandings of lower consciousness.

Dark occultists of all kinds are into esoteric religion believing it superior to exoteric religion. They have been able to use the hidden hierarchies of esoteric religion to develop power structures. The ancient solar cult from which Christianity was likely derived from was connected to dark occultism but not solely the ruling class... as all religions are a blend of attempted understanding by the masses and malicious intent by their rulers.

While these nature (pagan) religions contain symbol and ritual based on cosmic archetype and cycle... there is no higher (initiatory) understanding; it is used for egoic expression and tribal control just as the exoteric counterpart.

Those who believe themselves to be light occultists also fall into the esoteric religions. Annie Besant who wrote Esoteric Christianity tried to create an exoteric world religion revealing that even though she appeared to understand some esoteric concepts, in practice understanding was lost.

While there are those who have mused over the deeper understandings of the allegories and symbols of Esoteric Christianity, true Christian Adepts are unlikely, not only because Adepts are extremely rare in general (and may be in all honesty only a small handful of people in the entire world), but because Occult Philosophy far transcends any relevance to Christianity and the cult of Christ. True Adepts are part of no cult, whether that be Islam, Christianity, or Buddhism, etc.

It is far-fetched that a true form of Christianity even existed by a substantial group of people. People in this mythic/religious level of consciousness would not have the right worldview for correct interpretation and would have various beliefs in varying degrees of truth and falsehood. Thus, it is more likely that an already (corrupted) Christian religion created by ignorance was then co-opted by the ruling class.

This was clearly seen when Christianity was co-opted by the Roman empire through the Flavian Dynasty and Constantine. Uniting Church and State was a pragmatic ploy to make the Roman State more powerful, rather than about suppressing Cosmic Moral Truth.

Religions, which already contain a substantial level of distortion (with dogmas and myths), become more distorted by empire—who uses religion and all belief-systems for its own purpose.

Imagine a child who has an imaginary friend and then a predator who uses that friend to manipulate the child, saying “your imaginary friend told me this...” Now imagine, a group of people who invent an anthropomorphic version of God, and then a predator class who pretends to have special communication with this particular God (i.e. the priest class, the papacy, etc.). These victims are manipulated with their own false beliefs.

The highest you can go with authoritarianism is to seize the authority of God (Romans 13). Once “God” backs and validates your empire, the minds of men can be more easily controlled. Knowing that humans can be manipulated with authority isn't some special knowledge, as it can easily be deduced in a laboratory setting as done with the Milgram experiments, in which the majority of test subjects were willing to harm individuals via an electric shock when asked to so by an authority figure in a white coat.

Religious and spiritual authority is the most potent weapon against man, regardless of whether he is into the esoteric or exoteric. While the exoteric will believe in institutional authority, the esoteric will often believe in the authority of mystery-school hierarchies. Take for example, the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, which is more of an expression of the dark occult.

Even though true Esoteric Knowledge could not serve the Dark Occultists, esoteric religions do. Freemasonry in its pure form (as understood by the Initiate) is simply an advance symbolic system relating to Hermeticism and Alchemy. However, in its degraded form as an institution, religion, and cult (even though it denies being these things), it is a powerful tool for the elites.

While exoteric religion tends to be egalitarian and for the masses, esoteric religions can be elitist and for those who are individuating from herd consciousness. They are looking for something deeper than the exoteric by usually find themselves in cul-de-sacs as with institutionalized Freemasonry, which has turned esoteric symbols into dark occult rituals.

Because this giant masonic cult is structured like a dominator hierarchy (under the pretense of an “illuminated” spiritual hierarchy), many secret groups can be formed within this structure that can be used by the Dark Occultists, as all dominator hierarchies FEED into the Occult Hierarchy (Control System).

We now arrive at the topic of the Illuminati. This underground faction helped instigate the French Revolution. And while their intention appeared to be about good things like rights, freedoms, and “enlightened democracy,” appealing to the esotericist, it was more about bringing the next phase of global government. These engineered revolutions merely co-opt ideals, twist their meaning, and use them to market more enslaving systems. They are fake revolutions of manufactured consent.

Some act as if the New World Order is only about freemasonry, calling it a masonic conspiracy and others point to Zionism or the Jesuits order. But the truth is that many secret societies and orders of all false religions are playing out many imperial conspiracies against humanity all the time. In the Old Empire, the Knights Templar, the Pope's secret military order carried out atrocities like the Crusades when Christianity was the imperial religion.

The Lost Keys of Freemasonry (by Manly P. Hall) is a good read because it talks about initiation by the cosmos and how it is an objective process rather than a socially-validated process through organized rituals. But the deeper truth that Hall missed is that once we have an institution—the keys of true Occult Science are lost.

While the (Abrahamic) slave religions are about exoteric mass obedience and conformity, esoteric/occult religions are about cultish social hierarchies where belief in authority is still a problem.

Some in esoteric cults become deluded to believe they are the spiritual masters of humanity guiding our evolution. Their promotions may involve initiation ceremonies used as a reward system leading them astray as they feed the dark occult and sometimes directly the Dark Occultists.

The Dark Occultists do not peddle corruption to simply prevent people from understanding the truth of Esoteric Knowledge, but because any type of corruption serves them. With the Principle of Polarity and Correspondence, we can understand that all smaller evils serve all larger evils, evil being in unity with itself, but this is not about holistic evil, but a non-contradictory understanding of evil and the Law of Identity. (The same applies to the good).

To say the Dark Occultists invent all false religions (while knowing True Religion) is more than an overstatement, as they themselves partake in false religion. Satanism is a surely a religion with false beliefs about the nature of reality. The Satanists in power of course support man's law.

They peddle false religion because it serves their false religion and all false religion corresponds to each other (Correspondence/Vibration/Attraction). The masses believe in the slave religions and the rulers in master religions (Satanism) and this manifests a co-created dialectical prison. The masses believe in authority and want to relinquish their responsibility to authority, when the Dark Occultists want to be that authority, with the help of their (esoteric) pseudo-initiates.

False religions are also like false ideologies. The Dark Occultists are statist, materialists, pragmatists, collectivists, egotists, relativists, positivists, and utilitarians, just like the masses. It is not necessarily that academia is involved in a conspiracy consciously promoting these ideologies to stifle our mental development, but that these ideologies resonate with lower consciousness.

While Christianity was the religion of the old empire, statism is the religion of the new world order—no God or mythology necessary, just the pure belief that government is good and necessary. Thus, the separation of church and state never really occurred as obfuscated by the religion of the state.

While those in power use the state religion to serve themselves, we cannot say they solely invent state religion. The problems of central authority and collectivism existed in tribes and evolved to statism with agricultural and technological advancements. Statism is modern tribalism.

Just as the Dark Occultists do not understand objective morality neither do they understand the difference between true and false ideology/religion. Their ignorance overlaps with the masses and the cages they promote resemble the cages they are also in.

Chapter 7. WAR AGAINST THE DARK OCCULTISTS

If we believe that the occultation of Natural Law is the Dark Occultists' main strategy to enslave humanity—then it becomes easy to believe that our single solution for human freedom is to simply deocult this information to “level out the playing field” by sharing it with every single person we come in contact with as well as extending it to audiences of great numbers.

While it is good to make the information available, this simplistic perspective places enormous pressure and an unnecessary burden on ourselves that will burn us out. It will leave us disappointed because it is not the occultation of Principles that gives us our conditions but humanity's level of consciousness in the aggregate. For it is that level in which Principles are naturally hidden from. Just because you have the information doesn't make others ready to hear it.

If we believe that without the Dark Occultists, human religions wouldn't be corrupted but in their pure esoteric state, we are mistaken. We have seen how esoteric religion contains issues like the exoteric mainstream ones and that belief exists where gnosis doesn't. Those who do not care to discover and understand the objective nature of themselves and reality, can only default to authority and that is where most people are at. The prerequisites required to embark this path are so many that we should not assume that merely sharing information is sufficient.

The Great Work involves the evolutionary processes towards initiation and beyond this plane (ascension). This is about the continual refinement of our knowledge (both Absolute and relative) and the application of such knowledge in our personal lives (holistic living) as the alignment of one's perception to truth and morality moment-to-moment (in thought, feeling, and action).

People misconceive a rudimentary (and often fragmented) understanding of Natural Law concepts as the pinnacle of evolution in which one then should become a Natural Law missionary as getting the masses up to par is all that is left to do. But the difficulties in attaining conscious and holistic living should not be underestimated, as most people in the spiritual and freedom movements claim to have achieved this when they haven't even begun.

Once we identify as a Natural Law crusader, it becomes easy to abandon further alchemical processes within ourselves in regards to ego, shadow, and our dark side... Being identified with a single agenda and directing all energy towards it collapses the multi-dimensionality of life learning and destroys our objective moment-to-moment awareness of ourselves and reality. Rather than seeing people-in-and-of-themselves and objective reality in itself, we perceive everything in relation to our mission seeking to make everything fit our agenda. This is the opposite of holistic consciousness.

Since everyone is at different stages of development, each individual has different requirements of what they need to help them grow where they are at, and most people are not capable of any type of growth, let alone alchemical, due to calcified egos and their minds and hearts being possessed by falsehoods.

When we act like radical zealots about Natural Law, we can actually detract people from the information and give it a religious or cult-like appearance. Blindly sharing this with anyone at anytime will create unnecessary conflict as such blindness reveals our lack of knowledge of whom we are sharing it with.

Not everyone is ready for Occult Knowledge and part of the Great Work is becoming psychologically adept to understand others—after deeply understanding oneself. Until we address the unique psychological blocks (self-defense mechanisms, ego attachments, shadow, etc.) to developing holistic consciousness, external information is often meaningless and counterproductive. Due to the uniqueness of each person's psychology, there is no one-size fits all approach unless we see individuals as numbers in a factory of so-called "enlightenment."

Ultimately, there are right and wrong ways to share information and we should take a balanced, practical, realistic, and holistic approach.

Adepts respond to the opportunity to help others when it presents itself, rather than making it a crusade under collective delusions about helping the masses. Natural Law sharing is about readiness in timing, organic situations, and spontaneous action at the right moment with the right people—and this cannot be planned or organized.

Those who claim they are always planting seeds have little to no awareness of what they do, for a seed can only grow on fertile soil and wasting time is no worthy act. They may act through a mechanical formula to validate their good deed rather than tend to the unique needs of each situation as to follow up on what helps or not.

There are so many factors required to actually help a person evolve their consciousness to understand true Occult Ideas that we must regard this as a rarity; it involves karma, choice, and timing beyond ourselves.

When we mystify the Dark Occultists, we may have a distorted picture of reality as to perceive the cosmic picture of Good versus Evil with the "awake" Dark Occultists and the awake Light Occultists, each having their influence over humanity, the Dark Occultists occulting Natural Law information and the Light Occultists de-occulting Natural Law.

This mythos is related to some of Manly P. Hall's writings. He suggested that superhuman black magicians from Atlantis and Egypt overthrew the ruling priest class composed of white magicians and initiates, thus seizing control over society and then crafting state religion to cage people's minds. He believed these Atlantean sorcerers destroyed Occult Philosophy to specifically prevent individuals from adepthood.

The problem is that this supports the myth that a political social hierarchy of true Adepts existed in antiquity and once ruled over man, which would never be the case. Few adepts exist in every age, but they hold no social power, nor do they battle directly with the Dark Occultists as they operate from a higher vibration.

All mystery-schools built around organized social hierarchies are already corrupt from the get go and most especially ones that rule the world. This idea of evil hijacking what is good and pure is too simplistic and distorts our understanding of true initiation and the nature of evil.

Sure the Dark Occultists conceal the truth of themselves and the pyramid but the idea that they guard the true secrets of the Mysteries is unsubstantiated for true Spiritual Knowledge is occulted to them by virtue of their consciousness.

Now in the past and ancient past, the Dark Occultists may have suppressed groups connected in some way with Hermeticism... but this was not because they understood spiritual truths and saw it as a threat but saw rebellion as a threat—violence towards these groups was also a way to maintain power by cultivating fear. We cannot assume that groups who rebel against power structures are actual initiates understanding objective morality. Most of these groups were cults with their own distorted ideas who wanted to replace authority.

While doctrines of anarchy are a threat to statism, Natural Law isn't a true threat as during the middle ages it actually became centered around statism. Countless academic books on natural law theory, use it to validate man's law, state religion, and positivist doctrine. Lower consciousness that lacks objectivity, rejects the responsibilities of sovereignty, and fears true freedom can only misinterpret higher teachings.

The only true threat to the Dark Occultists is if humans became initiated and left behind their false worldviews and egoic consciousness, but such transcendence would not produce a war with them and they would not be able to fight back with their lower methods as these methods would have no grip on higher consciousness. It would be like a net that is too far from what it is trying to catch. Their plans and power would naturally be undone without organized action against them. In fact, it is organized action and social movements that feed into their dialectic and perpetuate false revolution.

While immoral power grasps the minds of many in resonant consciousness, true spiritual power (the knowledge that helps one evolve) is for the few who are ready for it (the narrow archway).

Once we deconstruct that the Dark Occultists conquered the Light Occultists mythos and see that the Dark Ones were not really interested in Hermetic knowledge or its suppression, we can have a more correct worldview.

Believing that the Dark Occultists are on the same level with the Light Occultists fulfills a type of archetypal-mythological fantasy making the cosmic battle of opposites more exhilarating. The Great War becomes about who is going to win over or influence the homo sapien herd towards or against Natural Law, the Dark Occultists or the Light Occultists? (Art: Jason Wang 7)

In this false conception, we glorify the Dark Occultists, ourselves, and even humanity to our disadvantage. We glorify the villain to glorify the fight—because a powerful adversary makes the war more satisfying to overcome and it elevates our own status upon dedicating our lives to this fight.

Some falsely imagine that the Dark Occultists imprison all souls to reincarnate on earth... that they've casted an astral net. This comes from a nihilistic worldview of simply giving evil way too much credit. The Dark Occultists are not above Natural Law—they do not set the conditions for our soul's journey. They interfere with us at the 3-D level only.

The Archons (whom the Gnostics call them) are not villainous spiritual beings beings who created this world through their master, the Demiurge, as they are simply earth's rulers by virtue of their methods over a population who wants to be deluded. The Demiurge is simply shadow, dark side, and lower consciousness from either side of the dialectic (both masters and slaves).

There is nothing great about the Dark Occultists who are not awake at all. They are lowly dreadful creatures beneath the masses and deader than "the DEAD"... they have no spiritual insight or self-mastery or worthy motive. They deserve ZERO respect for they have not earned or gaining anything worthwhile, least of all enlightened knowledge.

What seems like dedication and commitment is merely them being slaves to their primal instinct. They put no effort towards the development of human qualities unless they serve this instinct. Their dark unity is base, not intelligent, cannibalistic not holistic. Once we can put them in their proper place, we will see a puff of stinky smoke where their sorcery-type illusions used to be.

Rather than being fallen angels or like the Lucifer story, they haven't even evolved to the human level, so there is nothing to fall from. Fallen angels exist, as any higher being can regress due to free will, but these inferior creatures need not be given even a virtuous title of the past. They are more the Beast in the biblical context or beast-consciousness in the Alchemical one. We can take this literally as they are the beasts of men. The bottom-line here is that you don't need spiritual knowledge in order to control, conquer, and enslave.

We have seen how it is possible for the dark unity at the top to be as small a number as three and this dispels the "magic" of how they are able to achieve so much without the group divisions and internal chaos one would imagine.

As far as the rest of the hierarchy is concerned, dark unity is about a shared hyper-focus toward predatory instincts that helps one ascend the Social Hierarchy. Some are frustrated as to why there isn't more light unity in the world, but light unity cannot be as simplistic as dark unity. Light Unity is the infinitely greater task of not only (attempting to always) align the Self to objective reality (truth and morality) moment-to-moment but finding others (few and far between) who are doing the same AND without social hierarchies.

A group of Light Occultists is a rare thing as most who profess to understand Natural Law are oblivious to objective truth in their personal lives and will remain moral relativists until the true alchemical path is engaged. Until there is psychological mastery in multiple individuals, there can be no enlightened group. (This doesn't mean people should not collaborate or work with the unbegun but that a group of humanitarians is not necessarily a group of Light Occultists. There is a wide gap between the unbegun and the initiated. Most groups will consist of different levels of development... and thus differing agendas and conflicts.)

Furthermore, even if just three Light Occultists got together, they would not be able to achieve the opposite of the Dark Occultists because they would never create a dominator hierarchy that could control and influence large groups of people. Even if they could, they would then be committing acts of the dark occult.

So while there is an Evil Team specifically conspiring against the human species, there can be no Good Team to balance that out in a way that is equally opposite. This is because the light occultists could never be on the same playing field as the Evil team as to use the Control System for good.

Dark Occultists have the power to change the world because they rule over the worldly structure and can coerce individuals through man's laws and tyrannical regulations. But Light Occultists and Philosopher-Kings will never seek this type of power. They would never replace the Dark Occultists. They are not their mirror opposites, but above and beyond them in consciousness.

Their teachings are only available to those who have developed the eyes to see and the ears to hear. The idea of a light occult group being the true illuminati is a mythical notion that plays on our lower need for group consciousness and the new age belief that organized action changes the world.

Even if light occultists could make Natural Law Knowledge mainstream with some power and control over the media and education, this would become a travesty as lower consciousness would co-opt the ideas into a false religion/ideology, academic legal theory, or a political social movement. In order to "reach the masses," the more the message is corrupted to vibrate with their lower consciousness.

Regardless of how the masses are influenced by the Dark Occultists or whether Hermetic knowledge is occulted from them, the masses have free will and are responsible for their development. This is why it is important to realize that they are not merely helpless victims being fooled and tricked by "evil geniuses." Our dystopian conditions are the result of everyone's participation.

Rather than seeing humanity at the whim of Dark or Light Occultists, they are at the whim of their own self-ignorance, spiritual darkness, and satanic yearnings. Most humans reject moral development resonating with the ideologies of power, ego, superficial and materialistic values and desires.

While the Dark Occultists are lower than the masses, the masses vibrate in synch with their oppressive structures and easily fall for their tactics because of their underdevelopment. Humans believe in authority because it gets them off the hook for discovering truth for themselves. They WANT to abdicate moral responsibility and are content to be enslaved as they find its trade-offs of material comfort, convenience, and temporary security/safety worth it.

The masses also act like lower animals. Meat-eaters practice the domination, enslavement, and murder of animals, and abortionists advocate the murder of pre-born babies. In our satanic society, we are murderous cannibals as many companies put amputated baby parts in food (as flavoring) and to grow viruses in vaccines.

The Dark Occultists are no worthy adversaries for the Light Occultists. We might call them 'blood-sucking scum bags' to keep things real as any reference to Spiritual Knowledge they may have is merely empty decorations upon disgusting sewage.

The more we identify as the "opposers" of the Dark Occultists, the more we limit our growth potential and understanding of reality... the more we will have to (by necessity) lower our vibration to their level in our fixation to them.

The regressive rebel spirit binds us to an impure agenda to fulfill a false identity connected to the lust for power. Thus it is equally important to not see ourselves as rebels of the Control System. When we understand our independent existence from the System and transcend it (in mind and spirit), we have more freedom in thought and action which is important as things become more difficult. However, when we bind ourselves to the enemy, our choices and freedom of expression narrows and we may waste time, instigate chaos, and drain energy in fruitless battles, sinking our own ship all for self glory.

When we perceive ourselves as the saviors and heroes of humanity, we are on an ego-trip. The more we see ourselves on the Good Team ("Light Occultists," "Freedom Fighters," "Light Workers," or whatever title), the more we are tempted by our vices such as vanity, pride, and arrogance which causes us to lose touch with ourselves, others, and reality.

For once we evolve to be actual Initiates and Adepts, we no longer see things through team consciousness, collectivism, or grand (inaccurate) narratives (mythology) but as a multitude of individuals unfolding—each on their own journey back to Source. (Of course there are patterns people gravitate to in groups, and we should look examine this, but even patterns do not capture the individual as he must freely break them to transcend.)

To wrap up our closing statements we must ponder: Why do we aggrandize evil? And the simple answer is because of FEAR. Fear beguiles, mystifies, and complexifies... and projects mystery and grandness onto the unknown. However, when facing the truth of these blood-sucking scum bags who control the world, everything becomes simple and knowable in which the imagined greatness of evil shrinks.

We want EVIL to be more interesting than it naturally is because it excites the drama of it all, but once we demystify the Dark Occultists and deflate our perceptions of the human enemy, we can become more empowered by knowing the truth. Real excitement is found in goodness, not evil.

It becomes easier to rise above them knowing they offer nothing transcendent, nothing from the higher worlds we imagine them descending from. It becomes easier to rise above the Control System—which is simply the CAGE of predatory men for his prey and nothing more significant.

There is no Cosmic War between the Good Team and the Evil Team as imagined in our childhood fantasies and told through mythical tales like the movie Star Wars (the Jedi's against Empire). Besides Gnosticism, Zoroastrianism, Manichaeism, mystery-cults, and Christianity have turned this dualistic mythos into religion, falling to comprehend polarity holistically.

While some of us begin to think about good and evil in the personification of archetypes, our understanding of good and evil becomes more rational through initiation. We then see that there are merely Principles, individuals, psychological, emotional, mental, and behavioral levels of evolution, and free will created conditions (in the individual and aggregate).

Most people awake to the Control System have yet to embark Alchemical Transmutations. Everyone is a mixture of both good and bad in differing degrees due to free will and according to their level of consciousness. The evils in the Control System correspond to individual evils, like attracts like, cause attracts effect, consciousness creates matter. What is playing out is a complex interaction of every individual's thoughts, feelings, and actions with each other brought about through mental and karmic resonance and the rhythm of cycles.

In lower consciousness, we tend to see polarity like game theory (which side wins?). We intuitively know that good prevails over evil, but we want to see that NOW in our relative world, seeing time as finite and telos as a temporary end, thus lacking cosmic understanding. This world is only one out of near infinite worlds existing in a single moment of eternity. It is an expression of free will in a certain level of consciousness but not the end all be all. Good and evil, while opposed in the relative, are not in the Absolute—where only the Absolute GOOD exists. And that is the Ultimate End we will all eventually reach, where such wonder, greatness, and mystery should be left to.
